B2RInsight™

- Fully-integrated and automated end-to-end solution for budget planning and budget change requests for the most complex government agencies, eliminating manual process errors.
- Accelerates budget planning and budget change requests
- Provides insights and visibility into each stage of the budget process to make informed decisions and push the business forward.

To keep the government running like a well-oiled machine requires a more agile budget planning and change request process. In a sometimes volatile economic climate, drastic changes in resource levels, budgets, and strategies are inevitable. We allow your agency to react to changes with greater agility.

The City Innovate B2RInsight solution automates the budget planning and change request process end-to-end. B2RInsight takes advantage of the City Innovate Document Process Automation™ platform to accelerate document production. Thanks to our partnership with ServiceNow, B2RInsight integrates seamlessly with the systems of record already in place at your agency for budget planning and oversight.

City Innovate's approach to Budget to Results starts with the insight that much of the data you need to keep on top of the budget planning and change process is 'stuck' inside documents. We unlock that data and consolidate multiple inputs into one central repository for 100% spend visibility.

Automate the collection of budget inputs from across your agency and bring inputs together in one central repository.

City Innovate B2RInsight™ provides the platform for comprehensive visibility, tracking, and reporting throughout the budget planning and change request process. Accelerates the production of documents critical to budget planning and change requests by 50-70%.

- Automate the collection of budget inputs from across your agency and bring inputs together in one central repository.
- Ensure that budget inputs don't fall through the cracks with comprehensive decision logs and audit trails.
- Improve prioritization and reduce errors versus the manual collection of budget inputs.
- Increase employee satisfaction and productivity. Spend less time manually entering data and resolving conflicting inputs. Eliminates version control nightmares when producing documents that support your budget request.
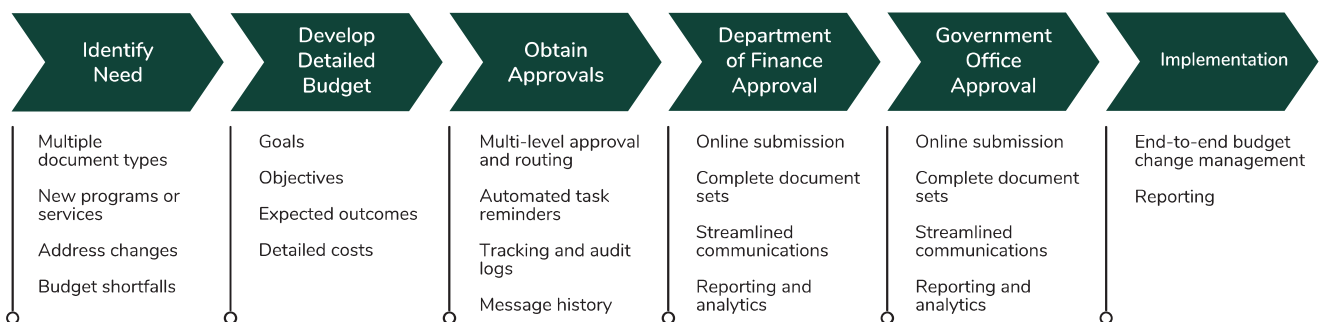

Speed + the accountability and rigorous oversight taxpayer's expect.

ServiceNow is the global leader in enterprise service management with years of experience in scaling solutions for sourcing and vendor management to connect the budget planning process end-to-end. The ultimate goal of ServiceNow's solutions is to modernize processes in a way that is transformative for the enterprise, saving both time and money.

Since 2014, City Innovate has provided the people, processes, and technology needed to modernize the process flows around government procurement, contracting, grants, and budgeting. Our expertise is in Document Process Automation ... turning the data hidden inside documents into structured data for greater insight and accountability; thanks to ServiceNow that data can then be injected into the other systems that government agencies depend on for operations.
